

COVER PHOTOS:

1) Folsom Dam Auxiliary Spillway, completed in October 2017. Folsom Dam and Reservoir is an integrated facility that provides water supply and flood protection benefits to the American River Basin Region.

Photo credit: U.S. Department of the Interior, Bureau of Reclamation, 2016.

2) Groundwater well in Natomas area. Locally-formed groundwater sustainability agencies are working together to manage regional groundwater resources under the Sustainable Groundwater Management Act.

Photo credit: Sacramento Groundwater Authority, 2013.

3) Fall-run Chinook salmon in lower American River. The American River Basin Integrated Regional Water Management Plan seeks to achieve a balance between sustainable water resources and related ecosystems.

Photo credit: California Department of Fish and Wildlife, 2017.

4) Low impact development at California State University, Sacramento. This project stores rainwater and filters runoff that flows into the nearby American River and educates the public about stormwater issues.

Photo credit: California State University, Sacramento, 2016.

5) Recycled water. Water reuse continues to grow in the American River Basin Region.

Photo credit: City of Roseville.