III. DEFINING HARASSMENT, DISCRIMINATION, AND RETALIATION

A. Harassment

Harassment can take many forms and includes, but is not limited to, the following conduct:

- Speech, such as slurs, jokes, stories, statements, epithets, derogatory comments, unwanted sexual advances or invitations, or inappropriate comments on appearance (including dress or physical features).
- Visual conduct, such as derogatory posters, cartoons, drawings, or gestures.
- Physical acts, such as offensive touching, assault, or any physical interference with normal work or movement when directed at an individual.
- Threats or unwanted sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other acts of a sexual nature where rejection of the conduct is used as the basis for employment decisions, offers of job benefits in return for sexual favors, or where the conduct is intended to or actually does unreasonably interfere with an individual's work performance or create an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working environment.

Guidelines for Identifying Unlawful Harassment

- Harassment includes any conduct taken because of the recipient’s protected category, which would be unwelcome to an individual of a protected category. Protected categories include: race, color, religion, national origin, ancestry, age, physical disability, mental disability, medical condition, marital status, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, gender expression, genetic information, pregnancy, military or veteran status, breastfeeding, or any other characteristic protected by the state or federal employment discrimination laws.
- The appearance of “voluntary consent” by the recipient may not be genuine. Harassment may still be occurring. There are many reasons why a recipient might appear to consent.
- Harassment can evolve over time. Just because no one objects to the behavior at the moment, does not mean that the joke, gesture, picture, physical contact, or comment is welcome.
- Consensual visual, verbal, or physical conduct by two employees may be offensive to a third party and can constitute harassment of that third party.
- Conduct can be considered harassment even if the individual in violation of this Policy has no intent to be harassing.

Other Forms of Harassment

Unlawful harassment is unwelcome or offensive conduct with the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual’s work performance, or which creates an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working environment that is motivated by or directed to an employee on the basis of a protected category.

B. Discrimination
This Policy prohibits treating individuals inequitably because of the individual’s protected category as defined in this Policy.

C. Retaliation
Any adverse treatment of an applicant, employee, or contractor, which occurs because that person has reported harassment or discrimination, or has participated in the complaint and investigation process.

IV. REPORTING PROCESS – MAKING A COMPLAINT
Any employee, job applicant, unpaid intern, volunteer, or contractor who believes he or she has been unlawfully harassed should promptly report it orally or in writing to his or her supervisor, or the Executive Director, Board President, or any other Board member.

Supervisors Must Report
Any supervisor who receives a complaint of unlawful harassment or who observes or otherwise learns about unlawfully harassing conduct shall notify the Executive Director immediately.

Upon receiving notification of a harassment complaint, the Executive Director will:

1. Provide the complainant with a timely response indicating that the complaint has been received and that a fair, timely, and thorough investigation will be conducted.

2. Timely authorize and supervise a fair and thorough investigation of the complaint by impartial and qualified personnel. The investigation will afford all parties with appropriate due process, which may include interviews with: 1) the complainant; 2) the accused harasser; 3) other persons, as applicable, who have relevant knowledge concerning the allegations in the complaint.

3. Review the factual information gathered through the investigation to reach a reasonable conclusion as to whether the alleged conduct constitutes harassment, discrimination, or retaliation giving consideration to all factual information, the totality of the circumstances, including the nature of the conduct, and the context in which the alleged incidents occurred.

4. Timely report a summary of the determination as to whether harassment occurred to appropriate persons, including the complainant and the alleged harasser. If discipline is imposed, the level of discipline will not be communicated to the complainant.
5. Take prompt and effective remedial action if conduct in violation of this Policy occurred. The remedial action will be commensurate with the severity of the offense. Disciplinary action for a violation of this Policy can range from verbal or written warnings up to and including termination.

6. Take reasonable steps to protect the complainant from further harassment, discrimination, or retaliation.

Reporting and Performance Standards
An employee, job applicant, unpaid intern, volunteer, or contractor who makes a complaint of discrimination, harassment, or retaliation is in no manner excused or exempt from the same performance standards to which others performing the same or similar work are held accountable. All job performance standards will be maintained throughout and following any investigation undertaken as a result of this procedure. Failure to meet job-related performance standards may be grounds for disciplinary action.
